

That's So Malaysian Lah! Rush - hour

Written by Editor

Thursday, 16 December 2010 14:51 -

Malaysian trying very hard to be on par with foreign countries and may be we are trying too hard that we are some time too blind to notice our surrounding?

It's a universal law that when motorists see a zebra crossing, they're meant to stop for anyone crossing the road. Malaysian drivers, however, see it as a challenge to step on the gas pedal and frighten the living daylights out of pedestrians.